

The point estimate approaches the expected value with larger sample.

